

A LIVE COMEDY SPECIAL TAPING

the PRESS RELEASE

Comedian Brian Doby Returns to Topeka to Film Debut Comedy Special

TOPEKA, Kan. — After performing stand-up comedy across the country for more than a decade—including appearances at venues such as the world-famous Apollo Theater—comedian Brian Doby is returning to Topeka to film his debut comedy special, Probably The Reason.

The special will be recorded live before an audience on Saturday, November 21, 2026, at The Foundry Event Center, bringing Doby back to the city where much of his comedy career first took shape.

"I've been working toward this for a long time," Doby said. "Coming back to Topeka to film my first special just feels right. This community has been a meaningful part of my journey, and I'm excited to share this moment with the people who have supported me over the years."

Blending observational comedy with stories about marriage, fatherhood, entrepreneurship, and everyday life, Probably The Reason reflects more than a decade of material, growth, and perspective developed on stages across the country.

The production is being filmed in partnership with 825 Studios, an award-winning production company, to create a polished cinematic experience while preserving the energy and intimacy of a live stand-up performance.

While the current plan features a single performance, we are exploring the possibility of adding an additional show to accommodate increased audience interest.

In addition to the live event, the special is intended for distribution following post-production, with additional promotional content and behind-the-scenes material planned throughout the project.

Local businesses and organizations also have an opportunity to become part of the production through a limited number of sponsorship and promotional partnerships supporting both the live event and the project's marketing campaign.
